

A_1 is a one-dimensional vector representing the amount of resources used in each observation time window of a task.

The sum of the graphic areas of the four rectangles is the sum of the resource usage of the task

T_1 is a one-dimensional vector representing the length of the observation time window of a task